

Sanitization Overview

Sanitization is a process where all the raw materials received are exposed to Steam for disinfecting Sterilization treatment. The raw materials are first placed in cotton bags after which they go through the treatment. The treatment does not change the properties of the materials. The treated lot should inherit qualities of the parent lots (if any exist). The treated cotton bags are placed in one or more drums.